Toledo Bend Lake Author Publishes Second Novel

E. P. Garth, a Toledo Bend Lake resident, has published his second novel, OUT OF TOUCH: A Pat Cassidy Novel. He is also the author of OFF THE AIR, the first book in the Pat Cassidy Series. Garth is a former sportscaster, D.J. and station owner in Texas and Louisiana. He has used his past experiences in sports and radio broadcasting, and his love of Texas, to create an interesting character in Pat Cassidy. Now living on the Louisiana side of Toledo Bend Lake with his wife, Sue, he is a former Vernon Parish school teacher and business owner.

OUT OF TOUCH continues the adventures of pulp fiction's latest crime buster and picks up where the first book ended. The books are uniquely told through Garth's masculine writing style as the stories unfold in 1976 Texas.

Danger continues to follow Pat Cassidy in OUT OF TOUCH, as he searches for Sheriff Vogel's long lost son, Kerry. Once again, Pat and J.T. Lambert team up, this time against a dangerous religious cult with ties to a Mexican drug cartel. Their search takes them to the rugged terrain near San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, where their lives are not the only ones they have to protect.

Always full of surprises, Pat Cassidy continues to win the hearts and admiration of the people he meets, as he travels from the Hill Country of Texas to Mexico with J.T., TV news reporter Paula Conn, and U.S. Congressman, Sam McCullough.

OUT OF TOUCH: A Pat Cassidy Novel is available through Booklocker.com and Amazon.com. Links to Garth's pages at both online vendors are easily accessed through his website www.epgarthlearn.com. The third installment in the Pat Cassidy series, ON THE RANGE, is scheduled to be released in the winter of 2011-12.
